Admiral Arleigh Burke / Chief of Naval Operations Department of Defense Washington 25, D. C.

Bear Arleigh:

We have read Admiral Plaherty's letter with a great deal of interest, and found his comments provocative and stimulating.

As to the matter of jamming Soviet Arabic language broadcasts, this would prove a very difficult proposition, certainly a costly one. However, most of the receiving sets in the area are of the medium wave variety, and while the Communist broadcasts undoubtedly have a skirly high impact, their audience is more restricted than one might think. We are exploring the jamming problem.

Pour Arieigh:

I have read Admiral Flaherty's letter with a great deal of interest. I found his commute provocative and stimulating.

We are very much in agreement here with Admiral Flaherty's observation on Masser's appeal to the Arab weeks, the extent to which Iraq threatens to dampe his prestige and on the fact that to back Maser too overtly and too directly in his fight against Commisse could prove counterproductive in the long run. It certainly follows from this that the improvement of our relations with the UAR is very much in our interests.

As to the matter of jenning Soviet Apuble language breadensts, I am told that this would prove a very difficult properties. certainly a costly one. With refreence to Admiral Eleberty's commut on the Arab-Investi problem, I concur with his view that it is far from solved and that it contributes very greatly to the political instability of the entire area. At the moment, the problem to be less ungest them it was and it may be that the Israelis and Arabs will learn to live amisskly with one another.

Admiral Flaherty's final chaervation on the significance of a Communist-dominated Iraq is one with which I agree wholeheartedly. I on not so sure that the Berlin crisis is a screen to cover Communist intentions in the Middle Bast, or even a diversionary attack. I on more inclined to think of this as two major Communist offunctives on separate frames.

With remost regards.

Dear Arleigh: √√€

Admiral Flaherty's final observation on the significance of a Communist-dominated Iraq is one with which I agree wholeheartedly. I am not so sure that the Berlin crisis is a screen to cover Communist intentions in the Widdle East, or even a diversionary attack.
